DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-12, 14-21, 23, and 24, drawn to a method of identifying genetically modified mammalian cells, classified in class 435, subclass 6; and class 435, subclass 7.1.
 - II. Claim 13, drawn to a vector comprising a nucleic acid sequence encoding mutated muscle specific tyrosine kinase receptor, classified in class 435, subclass 320.1.
 - III. Claim 22, drawn to an antibody, classified in class 530, subclass 387.9.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other for the following reasons. Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP §806.04, MPEP §808.01). In the instant case, the different inventions are drawn to completely different products, a vector and an antibody, which are not interchangeable and which require non-cohesive searches and considerations.
3. Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP §806.05 (h)). In the instant case, the vector can be used to produce a polypeptide.

4. Inventions I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP §806.05 (h)). In the instant case, the antibody can be used to immunoprecipitate or purify a polypeptide.
5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for a single group is not required for any other group, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
7. This application also contains claims directed to patentably distinct species. Claims 2-5 contain 4 species. Should applicants elect Group I, applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.
